

Helping you maintain strong relationships with your patients.

Provide your patients with the care they need, regardless of your access to them.

Videoconferencing, through Net Health Telehealth powered by Updox, is now available for Optima Therapy. This provides a secure line of communication between your patients so you can keep treating them, even without direct access. Conduct virtual visits with secure videoconferencing in Updox, while documenting the visits in Optima Therapy as usual. Expand your options for providing patient care and increasing patient engagement in our ever-changing world.

Secure Videoconferencing

- Interact with your patients in real-time over a HIPAA-compliant video connection
- Initiate a videoconference with a patient easily through a text message or email invitation
- Conduct virtual evaluations or supervisory visits from therapist with restricted access to patients
- Maximize efficiency in scheduling for your patients and providers

Secure Text Messaging

- Send and receive attachments such as documents, photos, and educational materials
- Maintain regular communication and rapport with your patients
